The image shows a blurred industrial interior, possibly a warehouse or factory floor, with a large orange overlay covering most of the scene. The floor has some faint markings, and there are structural elements like beams and pipes visible in the background. The overall tone is warm due to the orange overlay.

CASE STUDIES

RESIDENTIAL - COMMERCIAL - MINING

RESIDENTIAL EPOXY RESIN FLAKE FLOORING IN NORTH COOGEE, PERTH

NuDream Homes, a prominent residential construction company, sought Tier1 Coatings' expertise for a crucial project in North Coogee, Perth.

The task at hand was applying an epoxy resin flake flooring surface to the newly constructed garage floor, adding both aesthetic appeal and durability to the space.

Despite facing challenges with coordination and communication among builders and trades, Tier1 Coatings demonstrated remarkable efficiency and professionalism, completing the job within an impressive two-day timeframe.

The team's dedication to quality and their problem-solving approach ensured that NuDream Homes received a garage floor with a flawless epoxy resin flake finish, meeting and exceeding the client's expectations for a visually appealing and robust flooring solution.

This successful collaboration stands as a testament to Tier1 Coatings' commitment to excellence in residential projects.

COMMERCIAL WORKSHOP DEMARCATION IN PERTH

Facing a critical need to minimise downtime during the Christmas holiday period, Kacen Hydraulics, a leading hydraulic repair business in Perth, enlisted the services of Tier1 Coatings.

The objective was clear: demarcate their workshop for efficient and organised operations without any disruption to their essential services.

Tier1 Coatings rose to the challenge, demonstrating their commitment to timely and efficient project completion. Despite the constraints of the holiday season, the workshop demarcation project at Kacen Hydraulics was successfully executed within a swift four-day timeframe.

The dedication to precision and safety ensured that the hydraulic repair business could resume its operations seamlessly, benefiting from a strategically demarcated workshop that enhanced work flow and organisation.

This case stands as a testament to Tier1 Coatings' ability to deliver exceptional results, even under time-sensitive circumstances, for their commercial clients.

WORKSHOP DEMARCATION IN SOUTHERN MURCHISON REGION

Situated in the Southern Murchison Region, Deflector Mine Site, owned by SilverLake Resources, presented a unique challenge for Tier1 Coatings.

Engaged by underground contractors MACMAHON Holdings, our task was to demarcate their new workshop. Despite being confronted with a remote location and high temperatures, Tier1 Coatings embraced the challenge with the goal of ensuring a safe and organised workspace.

Upon receiving the site drawing, Tier1 Coatings engaged in detailed discussions with the client, carefully specifying product choices and determining the optimal locations for walkways.

Despite the unexpected challenges posed by high temperatures and site conditions, the team not only met but exceeded expectations.

Originally quoted for a five-day completion, Tier1 Coatings successfully finished the workshop demarcation in just four days, showcasing their commitment to efficiency and adaptability.

This case underscores Tier1 Coatings' ability to deliver quality results within demanding environments, ensuring safety and reliability for mining projects.
